The assessment roll of the village is proving more of an annoyance than was expected by the co tee having it in charge. The roll was not critically examined, it being under the law a copy of the asseasment roll as made up by the town assessors of the preceding year. The inconsistencies and inequalities in the roll are now becoming daily more apparent, since the board advertised a grievance day, when the taxpayers could lay their grievances be-fore the board. Three sessions have been held and at each a score of citizens have entered complaints Among the complainants is the Harlem Railroad Company, which, through its attorneys, asks for a reduction on seventeen acres of property within the The town Board of Assessors, composed of John O'Rourke, Elljah Purdy and James L. The trustees are justly indignant over the law which directs them to take the town assessors roll as an assessment, and the drafting of a law to have village assessors appointed may be a possibility in the near future. At last Elizabeth's Health Board has been forced to announce to the public what The Tribune stated over a week ago-that typhoid fever had become epidemic in the city. The board would not admit last week that there were more than twenty-five cases in the city, and said the newspapers were exaggerating the matter. At a special meeting of the board held on Wednesday night, the Health the board held on Wednesday night, the Health Inspector startled the members by officially reporting more than sixty cases of the malady in the city, and adoing that six deaths had occurred, while another patient in the Alexian Hospital is expected to die. The board passed a resolution imposing a fine of $25 on every physician who shall fail promptly to report any new case of the disease that he discovers. It is found the infection lies in the polluted water, and the board does not think it safe to drink from any well in the city without boiling the water, as the disease has appeared in places far removed from the district where it was most prevalent. #### AFFAIRS IN BROOKLYN.

SHE TRIED TO MAKE A LIVING AS A BOY. Etta Groemer, fourteen years old, who under-took to earn her living in boy's clothes, is in charge of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children. She said yesterday that she lived in Montrose-ave, until a year ago, when her father fell from a scaffold and was killed, and her mother committed suicide a few weeks later. She and her sister lived together until this summer, when went to the Catskills. She was a servant at the O'Hara House, in Hunter, and her sister had a place in the village of Catskill. The latter com mitted suicide by taking poison three months ago Etta then returned to Brooklyn, but she had no home. A girl she had known in Montrose-ave., whose Christian name is Clara, induced her to dress in boy's clothes. They had their hair cut shop in Graham-ave. They then hung about the Bridge entrance and sought work. Etta took the name of Henry and Clara called herself George. The former grew tired of loafing and secured a place as a dishwasher in a boarding-house in Hicks-st. She offered to do some ironing and did it so well that the cook said she must be a girl. When the cook said she walked like a girl she confessed, and was put in girl's clothes.

She afterward went to the house of Mrs. Skinner, at No. 107 Hicks-st., where her employer gave her in charge of the police, because she threatened to kill herself. It is thought that the girl is somewhat deficient in intellect.
